

Carmen Rubio

MD, PHD

Head of the Department of Radiation, Oncology Hospital Universitario HM Sanchinarro, HM Puerta del Sur, Madrid, Spain

Specialization

Radiotherapeutic oncology
Innovative irradiation strategies for conditions such as brain tumors, pancreatic cancer, liver tumors, prostate cancer and oligometastatic patients

Spoken Languages

Spanish
English

Education & Professional Experience

- Graduated from the University of Salamanca in 1990
- Earned her doctorate in 1998
- Worked in the radiosurgery unit of San Francisco de Asis and the Jiménez Díaz Foundation in Madrid
- Has been leading the radiotherapeutic oncology services at HM Hospitals, specifically HM Universitario Sanchinarro and Puerta del Sur de Madrid
- Has held a professorial role at the CEU San Pablo University Faculty of Medicine
- Teaches in master's programs across multiple universities in Madrid as well as at Tech University in Mexico
- Advisor for various final projects and doctoral theses
- President of SEOR and the Spanish Radiosurgery Society

Contributions and Achievements

- Principal investigator and collaborator on numerous national and international studies
- Has presented extensively at various global conferences and courses

“Accreditation is essential for SRS and SBRT centers, as it guarantees that the facility meets rigorous standards for safety, quality and clinical competency, ensuring the best possible outcomes for patients.”